About NEXT

National Exit Examination (NEXT)

National Exit Examination (NEXT) is currently a proposed examination to be brought in the form of a test that will be regulated after your MBBS term for all the Indian medical students in India. It is currently proposed under the National Commission Medical Bill (NCME). NEXT is believed to be introduced in order to assess the basic skills and knowledge of all medical students, it will serve as a standard examination, testing which will determine merit-based admission for medical post-graduate MBBS. Council is taking an interest in proposed reforms for the medical to be the best one possible for its new program known as U.S. NEET 2 Prep Classes.

- ◆ Site assessment, plant designing and Layout
- ◆ Operation and maintenance
- ◆ Supply, Erection & Commissioning
- ◆ Spares, consumables and chemicals
- ◆ Mechanicals, Civil works and Electrical/ Instrumentation
- ◆ local representation in all states

MBR TECHNOLOGY

The MBRB system is considered a biofilm process. MBBR systems don't need a recycling of the sludge, which is the case with activated sludge systems. Some MERITS OF MBBR compared to conventional systems are

- ◆ It has effective sludge retention time (SRT)
- ◆ Absorbs load fluctuations
- ◆ Minimal sludge production
- ◆ Smaller area coverage

SBR TECHNOLOGY

Sequencing batch reactors (SBR) are a type of activated sludge process for the treatment of wastewater. SBR reactors treat wastewater such as sewage or output from anaerobic digesters or mechanical biological treatment facilities in batches. The treated effluent may be suitable for discharge to surface waters or possibly for use on land. The sequence /stage of treatment goes like this Fill - React - Settle - Decant- Idle.

MBR TECHNOLOGY

Membrane bioreactor (MBR) is the combination of a membrane Process like microfiltration or ultrafiltration with a biological wastewater treatment process. It is now widely used for municipal and industrial wastewater treatment. MBR processes can produce outlet of high suitable quality enough to be discharged to surface or brackish waterways or drain. Other advantages of MBRs over conventional processes include small footprint, easy install and upgrade of old wastewater treatment plants.

Don't Take Our Word For It
By Megha Sani

We desire to explicitly affirming that this is the comprehensive and other steps to ensure the success of our work. And after that step by step process. People here, we never compromise that this has the overall value, importance and our understanding being crucial. There is that we are and we are not our own. We need every of the entire process from the end, starting from choosing to design, then after that we will be able to provide material solutions. We would Megha for choosing out of it.
